As a school, we aim to:

- have positive attitudes, behaviours and relationships
- have a shared sense of belonging
- make sure that teaching and learning promotes equality and celebrates diversity
- make sure that all pupils have equal access to a rich, broad, balanced and relevant curriculum
- give equal opportunities for learning and development for all staff
- remove or minimise existing inequalities and barriers to learning
- make sure that pupils, parents and other people connected with the school are asked about and involved widely in developing what school provides
- encourage good relationships with the local community
- make sure that enough money is available from school funds to support this Equality policy .

We believe that promoting equality is the responsibility of everyone in the school community.
